

Big Lake Shows Love to Hikers

by Benjamin Lundquist

Big Lake Youth Camp is positioned on the Pacific Crest Trail, and each summer the camp hosts nearly 1000 hikers who stop by to do laundry, eat a warm meal(s), collect packages, repair gear, and rest a while. While talking with some hikers tonight at dinner one commented, "You all have been so kind and generous, this is by far the best place to stop on the entire trail, I feel like there has to be a catch, no place is this nice to people they don't even know." It is an honor to host these hikers as our guests each summer, there is no catch, simply a hope that each hiker will experience a love so compelling that they might consider pursuing its source in the future for themselves.

Health System's Name Change Reinforces Health Message

United States-based Adventist Health System (AHS) recently announced the organization will change its name to AdventHealth as of January 2019, a transition AHS leaders say connects the health care system closer to the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
